Kefauver Strives To Halt Possible Stevenson Draft

Aide Urges 'Fair Play' At Convention

Sen. Estes Kefauver's camp said yesterday that millions of Americans watching on television will bar any move to "gag up" on Kefauver and draft a dark-horse candidate at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago next week.

Apparently fearing a drive to draft Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, Gael Sullivan, campaign manager for Kefauver, said the Republican National Convention proved that the American people insist on "fair play."

Sullivan said television will make it impossible for party bosses to engineer a "synthetic draft" because millions of people across the nation have "living room rights to this convention."

Sullivan had previously charged there was a move afoot to stop Kefauver by developing a three-way convention deadlock among Kefauver, Sen. Richard B. Russell and Averell Harriman—then inducing Harriman and Russell to throw their support to Stevenson on a "draft."

Kefauver, the front-running Democratic candidate, has won every state primary election in which he was entered except in Florida where he lost to Russell. By hard campaigning, he has rolled up far more popular votes than any of the other aspirants in the field.

However, President Truman and some other Democratic schemers have seemed cool to Kefauver's bid for the nomination, and with the convention less than a week away, uneasiness over Truman's intentions mounted sharply.

A development that could mean much or little came from Missouri's Gov. Forrest Smith who changed signals to announce that he is now for Sen. Russell. Smith had previously indicated he leaned toward Stevenson.

The Missouri governor emphasized that Russell is only his personal choice and the Missouri delegation has made no decision yet on the man it will support.

Many of the Missouri delegates have said they want to wait until they find out Truman's choice. They will find that out when Truman's vote as a Missouri delegate-at-large is cast by his alternate, Thomas J. Gavin.

Truman has said repeatedly he doesn't plan to attend the convention until after a nominee has been chosen, but his own preference will be disclosed by Gavin's vote.

Meanwhile Russell's campaign manager, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, tabbed Vice President Alben Barkley as "the man to beat" for the Democratic presidential nomination. He said his man could do it.

In New York, Russell said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, would be "harder to beat" than Sen. Robert A. Taft. The Georgia senator said he could beat Gen. Ike, however, partly because "I have 13 Southern and border states behind me who have 146 electoral votes." It takes 531 electoral votes to win the presidency.

Keel Laid For Super-Carrier

Newport News, Va., (AP)—The keel was laid yesterday for America's giant new supercarrier Forrestal—slated to serve as a "mighty arm of freedom."

With that tribute, Deputy Defense Secretary William Foster dedicated the 60,000-ton vessel to the cause of world peace in a 30-minute ceremony at this Hampton Roads shipbuilding city.

Foster said the Forrestal's planes would be able to bring within reach the "innermost lairs" of any aggressor nation and will carry the naval power of the United States to "any part of the world."

Even as Foster was speaking Navy Secretary Kimball was taking occasion to renew his call for a fleet of "at least 10" of the mammoth carriers.

Edwards Indicates Preference For Stevenson In Advance Of Democratic National Parley

Harold C. Edwards, Stroudsburg attorney and delegate from the 15th Congressional District, will leave here Saturday for Chicago and the Democratic National Convention "with a free mind, ready to nominate for president the best candidate for the party and the voters of the country."

When elected in April the ballot listed Edwards as not promising to support the popular choice of the party in the district. Commenting on this non-committal basis Edwards said "When I was elected not all the candidates had announced themselves. Since then we have had many aspire. There was no chance for the voter to express himself in the primary and so I am uncommitted going to Chicago."

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois is Edwards' first choice as president on the Democratic ticket and he indicated he will cast his initial ballot for him. "I don't think any man can do the job as president without experience. He has been governor of the great state of Illinois and is qualified."

"There's more to this campaign than just war or foreign policy," Edwards continued. "We have to have someone in the White House with experience in operating the government or with experience in some legislative body."

"There is great debate as to the second choice. There seems to be a lot of popular support for Harriman. He also has experience in government affairs."

"Kefauver might be considered as the vice presidential candidate," Edwards said.

Regarding the Republicans' chances in the coming campaign Edwards said "They lost the election in the Chicago convention. First because the pattern of all speeches was the same thing said for the past 20 years. They criticize what

Ike Told Chances Excellent For Carrying Illinois, South

Chicago, (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower broke up camp in Chicago and headed west for a rest yesterday after final strategy consultations with GOP leaders and a visit with his son and daughter-in-law.

The Republican presidential nominee and his wife, Mamie, headed for Denver to "take it completely easy." Eisenhower said he may vacation at a ranch near Denver or go fishing somewhere in the Rockies.

Last-minute visitors at Eisenhower's Chicago headquarters included C. Wayland Brooks, former U. S. senator from Illinois. Brooks told the general he would carry Illinois in the November presidential election even if the Democrats drafted Illinois' governor, Adlai Stevenson, to serve as their presidential nominee.

Brooks said Illinois party workers will give Eisenhower wholehearted support even though the 60-vote Illinois delegation at last week's GOP convention was 59 for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and one for Eisenhower.

"We will abide by the convention's decision," he said.

Eisenhower also talked with C. C. Spades, GOP national committeeman from Florida. Spades said the general promised to make two major campaign speeches in Florida, plus "several whistle stops." No dates or places for the talks have been fixed.

Spades said Eisenhower told him he will wage a strong campaign "in the South and for the South." The Florida committeeman added that Eisenhower has "a tremendously good chance" to carry Florida and other Southern states.

Pennsylvania Delegation Uncommitted

Philadelphia, (AP)—Pennsylvania's 70-vote Democratic delegation will go to Chicago uncommitted on a presidential nominee, undecided on its own chairmanship, and for the most part unwilling to make any predictions on how next week's show will end.

Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, considered by some of the delegates as a likely choice for the chairmanship at Sunday's caucus, said, "We've not made up our minds on a candidate and won't until we meet in Chicago."

Former Sen. Francis J. Meyers mentioned by one prominent Western Democrat as the probable chairman of the delegation, declined comment on that possibility and said that as far as the presidential nominee is concerned "I am uncommitted, but we have many good candidates."

Another Democrat, Philadelphia Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth, considered a contender for the chairmanship, is in Europe and will return possibly only a day or two before the state caucus is called in Chicago. Dilworth, the party's unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1950, is a strong supporter of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

A delegate who declined use of his name said "If Dilworth sticks to Kefauver and Mayor Lawrence comes out for someone like Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois or Averell Harriman, then you might see fireworks next week."

The last Associated Press poll showed 11 votes for Stevenson, 7% for Kefauver, 2% for Harriman, a half vote for Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and the remainder, undecided, uncommitted or favorable to President Truman.

At the moment there are blind spots in the web big enough to permit a plane to sneak in before American interceptors can nail it.

There are shortages of spotters, shortages of phones, but most of the nation's 150,000 signed-up volunteers headed for their posts, the Air Force found.

Monroe County was doing all right for the first day. Assistant Civil Defense Chief Jack Anderson climbed in his car and made the rounds of local posts. He was on duty at Skytop, was in "complete operation." So was Marshall Creek. "Limited operations" were going on at Mount Pocono. Tolyhanna, Brodheadville.

"Limited" meaning spotters were at the posts, but there might not be enough to keep the post operating for 24 hours a day—a little like keeping a fire extinguisher in the house for 16 hours and removing it for eight.

Readers, Kunkelstown and Pocomoke were not checked by Anderson yesterday. They will be, today.

"It looks quite favorable," Anderson said. "We have maybe 50 per cent of the volunteers needed to keep the posts on a 24-hour basis."

Spotters Go On 24-Hour Basis Here

Monroe County's modern "minute men" took their posts at 8 a.m. yesterday.

They were not farmers in knee britches, armed with flintlocks and muskets, with sharp eyes cocked for the approach of British redcoats.

They were work-a-day farmers, laborers, business men, store keepers and housewives.

Their mission is as vital to the defense of the nation as any ever handed on to citizens.

The ordinary-looking residents actually are the first line of defense against the most likely disaster which could hit the U. S.—an A-bomb attack by Russian planes. To those who gave it any thought at all, it must have seemed a little weird to think that the 20th Century's most fantastic form of destruction could—and might—blast out of the peaceful, bland skies over the Poconos.

That peace—audible in the routine hum of trucks on the highways, the far-off wail of a freight train, the nearby squall of a hungry infant—was separated from agony and flames, death and holocaust not by weeks and months, but by hours.

The time it takes for a plane to fly from peace to war—USSR to USA—is figured in hours.

That plane would not be carrying the outdated, old-fashioned TNT which churned London into ruins. It would be delivering a modern "improved" version of the shrieking hell which vaporized two major Japanese cities.

That is what Monroe County's "minute men" are watching for—they and thousands on thousands of other volunteer citizens in other counties, other States.

Because of these efforts the sprawling Ground Observer Corps machinery sputtered, groaned and slowly began chugging into full operation yesterday.

The spark plug was the Air Force—which holds that attack is imminent enough to demand 24-hour operation for an indefinite period across 27 states.

It takes a lot of local live-wires and dead-earner people to keep the GOC machine rolling for 24 hours a day, week after week.

Some 350,000 people are vitally needed if the gaps in the national electronic radar screen are to be bridged properly... an observer post about every eight miles.

Weather Today To Rule Next 40 Days, St. Swithin's Says; Another Scorcher Forecast

If St. Swithin's legend is right, the county is due for a 40-day dry spell, starting today.

St. Swithin was the bishop of Winchester who died in England in 862—more than a thousand years ago. Legend has it that if it is rainy or dry on St. Swithin's day (July 15) the same kind of weather will be the rule for the next 40 days.

The weatherman says this part of Pennsylvania's due for more hot weather today, so...

However, weather legends are not 100 per cent accurate. July 2 was the day "Mary went over the mountain," according to Pennsylvania Dutch legend. If her skirts remained dry, there was to be a 40-day dry-spell. (It always seems to run to 40 days).

Mary's skirts remained dry—and last weekend several dams burst in the area as a result of torrential rains.

So give St. Swithin a chance, but don't throw away your umbrella.

As for yesterday—most county residents found it more sweat than sweet.

For the second straight day mercury hit the 90s, and the experts saw little chance of a change before Friday.

A Democrat fanned himself in the hot air of Court House Square, Stroudsburg, and opined it was just the backwash from Chicago, but he may have been guessing.

It was 93 at Wilkes-Barre, 91 at Allentown and Williamsport, 90 at Harrisburg, Brookville, Pittsburgh and Reading—but Stroudsburg emerged the winner: A high of 96, following a night-time low of around 74.

The high reading was official. The low was not.

If it makes you feel any better, you can blame the present scorch on warm currents which sneaked in from the gulf regions and rode south and southwest winds up this way.

The act authorizes $1,813,316,000 for the Air Force, $328,047,800 for the Army and $256,875,000 for the Navy. Most of the Air Force money is tabbed for air bases. They are restricted to use by U. S. forces and are separate from fields to be used by American allies.

Flash Fire Rips Through Hotel; 3 Feared Dead

Fairbanks, Alaska (AP)—An explosive fire consumed a three-story wooden hotel in this boom-packed interior Alaska city early yesterday, but hours later as the confusion cleared it appeared a major disaster had been averted.

Police Chief Floyd Clower and the hotel's night clerk, David Littlefield, said last night they were sure the toll was:

One dead, identified as Bill Vanderpool, an employee of the Alaska Freight Lines.

Two women missing, identified from the hotel register as Mrs. Edna Richardson and Caroline Kimball. Their hometowns were not known.

Eight were hospitalized with burns.

President Truman indicated he signed the measure with some misgivings, declaring it was "no cure-

White House Calls New Peace Talks

Pittsburgh (AP)—Apparently nudged by the White House, the steel industry and CIO United Steelworkers arranged new peace talks last night in the great 1952 economy crippling strike on the heels of reported rejection by the union of latest settlement offers.

The Office of Price Stabilization at the same time turned down demands of three steel companies for price boosts ranging from $5.60 to $6 per ton to cover recently granted wage boosts. But industry officials didn't think this will have any bearing on negotiations.

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman announced arrangements for the meeting at 10 a.m. today in Pittsburgh. A union spokesman confirmed this and said the session will be attended by steelworkers' President Philip Murray and Vice President Joseph Larkin of the Bethlehem Steel Corp., who will speak for the Big Six of the industry.

Negotiations were called after union officials showed displeasure with an offer by the industry during week-end peace talks.

The union spokesman said rumors that Murray has called his big Policy Committee—union governing body—to consider the offer are not true. He added:

"Murray has not called a meeting of the Policy Committee. And if he does call one it will be to report no progress in negotiations."

Terms of the newest industry offer to settle the 43-day-old strike were not officially disclosed but were widely believed to call for what one industry spokesman called "a watered down" version of the modified union shop which made part of a separate strike-ending agreement with Pittsburgh Steel Company.

The union shop makes it compulsory for all employees to join the union. New employees must join after a stated time, usually 30 days. The modified version for which Pittsburgh Steel signed calls for new employees to join the union but allows them to withdraw between the 20th and 30th days of work.

Wage provisions of the proposed standing offer of a 24 to 26 cent hourly pay package. Of that amount 16 cents an hour would be an outright wage boost. The remainder is covered by fringe benefits. The Wage Stabilization Board recommended a 26 cent hourly wage package and the union shop.

The request for price increases from OPS was filed by Pittsburgh Steel, Weirton Steel Co. and Armco Corp. All have signed contracts—Armco and Weirton with independent unions and Pittsburgh with the big CIO steelworkers.

Blonde Slain In Office On Campus

New York (AP)—A mystery gunman invaded busy Columbia University yesterday to kill a lovely young blonde, day dreaming over her boy friend's letter from Korea.

The slayer, a slim, young 6-footer, fired six shots at 20-year-old Ellen Fahey, a secretary for the American Physical Society, which has a ninth-floor office on Columbia's campus.

Miss Fahey slumped face down on the floor from her desk chair, at least five bullet holes in her chest. The gunman walked out of the office, the weapon still smoking in his hand. He took an elevator downstairs and made his way from the building. He stopped just long enough to tell several persons:

"I just killed a girl. Call the police."

The uptown Manhattan campus was awakening to the hurried morning tread of 11,700 summer school students as the slayer disappeared.

Detectives were at a loss for a motive. They could only suggest that some secret admirer may have slain Miss Fahey in a fit of jealousy.

Her brother, Frank, 18, was shot to death five years ago in a "teen-age street battle. His slayer went to a reformatory but since has come out on parole.

Miss Fahey, blue-eyed, 5 feet 7 inches and 120 pounds, came to work clutching three letters from her boy friend, Ronald Leo, a Marine in combat in Korea.

Friends described Leo as "the only man in her life."

Vacation Taxation

Ah, the carefree summer vacationist! He goes his way without a worry in the world—unless it might be some concern over how he's going to pay for his trip.

Now comes the warning to add to that concern. "Don't forget taxes!" it says merrily, and begins to show how they add to the cost of a vacation.

This starts with preparations for the trip. On any long-distance phoning for reservations there's a 25 per cent tax, and 15 per cent on telegraphing. If one has to buy luggage, the tax ups the price 20 per cent. To the cost of rail, air, bus or boat tickets, federal tax adds 15 per cent.

To the price of cameras and film, the federals have added 20 per cent at the manufacturer's level. Similarly they have boosted the price of sporting goods 15 per cent, fishing gear 10 per cent, firearms and shells 11 per cent.

If one is taking an auto tour, he pays two cents a gallon more for gasoline, and a cent and half more a quart for oil, because of federal taxes. And here state taxes begin to get in their liks.

The Pennsylvania tourist will find that many states take more than the 5 cents a gallon charged here. State gas taxes reach a peak of nine cents in Louisiana. They're seven cents in a number of other Southern states.

A lot of the states slap a sales tax of two or three per cent on practically everything. In this part of the country, such taxes are imposed by Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Then there are cigarette taxes. You start out with a federal levy of eight cents on each pack, and add one to eight cents in state taxes. Some Southern states, however, have no cigarette taxes.

If the vacationist does any drinking, he starts with federal taxes amounting to $2.50 a quart, and adds a lot of state taxes.

There's no tax on sleeping, unless you sleep in a Pullman car. There it's 15 per cent.

That 'Little War'

Not counting those missing in action, the official tally now shows that nearly 20,000 American fighting men have lost their lives in the Korean War.

By comparison—
The 1947 Texas City disaster, which shocked the nation, killed 512.

The 1941 Pearl Harbor attack, which sent us into a global war, killed 2343.

And the total World War II overseas deaths of the U. S. Marine Corps—through the bloody campaigns of Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Saipan and Iwo Jima, to mention a few—amounted to 21,900, only 1500 more than our present score in Korea.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

James Byrnes' Testimony — James Byrnes, now Governor of South Carolina, was Secretary of State at the time of the Potsdam Conference (1945), which he attended. He has reported his impression of that experience in his book, "Speaking Frankly."

On the subject of prisoners of war, Byrnes early came up against the proposition that our allies, in violation of the Geneva Convention, wished to hold onto their prisoners of war, assigned to them by the United States, to be used as part of German reparations. It was a most unusual procedure, for reparations ordinarily consist of money payments or materials, not of human beings. This was, of course, slavery.

Byrnes explains the situation, thus: "In the closing days of the war against Germany, we took as many prisoners it was difficult to care for them behind the lines, and guarding them required so many troops that General Eisenhower decided to transfer many of them to the custody of the liberated nations. But these prisoners surrendered to the United States Army and we therefore retained responsibility. The prisoners held in the United States were endeavoring to return promptly.

ly. We encountered some resistance from their employers (that is, the European countries) who found the labor profitable, but both Secretary of War Patterson and I were insistent. Notwithstanding the problems in getting necessary transportation, the last of the German and Italian prisoners in this country were returned home in the Fall of 1946."

The Geneva Prisoners of War Convention contemplates the repatriation of prisoners as speedily as possible after the end of fighting. Soviet Russia had never signed that Convention. France, which was a signatory, held "... approximately 600,000 of the prisoners transferred by General Eisenhower, of which 40,000 were working in coal mines, 280,000 were working on farms and the occupations." The French wanted to hold them, as they "... were so short of labor that they needed a longer period to complete the repatriation."

"In mid-1947 we had in our zone in Germany approximately 573,000 displaced persons. We support them and will not force them to return to the countries of their origin as long as there is reason to believe they would be punished for political reasons."

"I had suggested to French officials that they offer work to these people, but when their representatives went to Germany they expressed a preference for German workers. I believe it was the French Communists who objected to bringing in the anti-Communist Poles, Balts and Slavs....

Byrnes also said: "We know little about the prisoners of war in the Soviet Union, German or Japanese. Generalissimo Stalin told Mr. Hopkins in June, 1945, that they had about two million prisoners of whom 1,700,000 were Germans. He said they were being used in the Ukraine, White Russia and in the Moscow area on reconstruction projects, in the coal mines and in the timber industry. The Germans, he observed, had been so underfed that they were poor workers; he preferred the Hungarians, who were better fed. In March, 1947, the Soviet Government claimed to have returned over one million Germans and to have 800,00 left."

"An over-all agreement on the repatriation of German prisoners finally was obtained at the last meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers in Moscow. The agreement, reached on April 23, provides that all German prisoners shall be returned by December 31, 1948...."

There is no evidence that the figures the Russians gave were correct or that any of the prisoners of war were repatriated. In fact, there is evidence that they seized part of the civilian population of so-called liberated countries, particularly scientists and skilled workers, and used them for their own scientific and industrial development."

At the subsequent London conference, Byrnes raised this question again. He reports: "No one can say accurately

"No one can say accurately how many Japanese prisoners have been taken to the Soviet Union. In mid-1947 the best guess was that 500,000 were still there...." "At London, however, when Mr. Molotov said that Japanese should be made prisoners, he even expressed the fear that our policy would lead to a revolt of Japanese aggression...."

This question now looms again at the conferences at Pannunjom. Again, the Russians through the Chinese and Korean Communists, want us to turn over to them, our prisoners of war, as was done in World War II. We are, apparently, not making that mistake again.

Roger Price is fond of extolling the virtues of his nineteen-year-old cousin Sally, who certainly sounds like an unusual lass. For instance, cites Roger, she went to neglecting every other girl in the place because she was the only one who had the sense to come naked. Another time she was approached by a virile stranger who slipped a note into her hot little palm that read, "You are the only woman I ever have loved. Come to my hotel at midnight." Sally wasn't sure he was sincere, however, because the note was mimeographed.

Inside Washington

Washington — Look for the Democrats to make every attempt to outdo the Republicans on television when their convention opens July 21 in Chicago. The Democrats have the advantage of studying what appear to be mistakes in convention TV by watching the Republicans, but they'll have to cook up some personality drama to keep up their "hooper ratings."

The GOP delegates got off to a fast start with a big battle over seating contested delegates, turning what generally proves to be a dull opening day into an action-packed TV program.

The TV audiences, having become accustomed to western movies and fast-moving quiz contests, like fights between personalities. The Democrats, who have been battling over issues, despite the vast number of potential candidates, will have to come up with that personal touch to satisfy the average TV-viewer.

Truman's reluctance — Since President Truman's announcement that he would not run for re-election there has been a lot of flash-back reference to the late President Coolidge's statement in 1928 when he said: "I do not choose to run." President Truman insists that he will not be a candidate for re-election under any circumstances—not even a draft.

Now, after all these years, comes a filtered-down, so-called "inside" story on Coolidge's refusal to run again for office.

The story goes that an intimate was with Coolidge when he was told that Herbert Hoover had been nominated as the GOP presidential candidate and President Coolidge "broke down and cried like a child."

Robert Gunner—The pilot just goes along "for the ride" in the new Lockheed F-94-C Starfire interceptor.

Once the pilot brings the craft into shooting distance of an enemy plane the plane's mechanical brain takes over. The "robot gunner" directs the rockets, takes its own evasive action and, in general, does all the fighting through electrical impulses.

Air Force chiefs are so satisfied with test results of the Starfire they are pushing research to develop pilotless interceptor planes completely controlled from the ground.

The pilotless planes will be actual jet fighter and interceptor aircraft, not just one-shot guided missiles. Having completed their missions in the air, the planes will be guided back to their bases to be used again and again.

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

If you read yesterday's column you may remember that I started to write about Pasta Fazole and wound up telling you about something that was typical of Russia. I had always thought that Pasta Fazole was something that Eddie Cantor and other stage fellows sang about—then suddenly I discovered that it is actually something to EAT.

My wife and I happened to be in an Italian restaurant the other evening and I asked the waiter to bring us something different, something we had not ever had before.

"Have you ever tried Pasta Fazole?" he asked.

"Pasta Fazole?" I said, "no, I have HEARD of it but never eaten it."

So we tried the Pasta Fazole and, believe me, it was delicious. In case you, too, don't know what it is, order it some time when you are in an Italian restaurant. It is a combination of macaroni and white beans with tomato paste, onions, imported olive oil, butter, grated cheese and spices.

With it, we had Italian anti-pasta, shrimp in marinara sauce, tossed green salad, a delightful Torino chestnut supreme for dessert, and Cafe Espresso (that super-strong Italian coffee about which the less said, the better).

I was so full after that meal that I couldn't move. So I started to THINK instead.

And I thought of all the various restaurants in which we had eaten all over the country.

I thought of the wonderful Veal steak with noodles, a tangy Mexican dish we had had in a Mexican restaurant on Olivera Street in Los Angeles. I thought of the Saashlik in an Armenian cafe on New York's west side. I thought of the mouth-watering Eppel Gnepp mit Lemon Saus (Apple dumpling with Lemon Sauce) in a little Pennsylvania Dutch place in Ephrata, Pa. I thought of that sumptuous meal at Creole Mary's in Mobile. I thought of the out-of-this-world French food at the Inn in Ridgefield, Conn.

All these—and many more—right here in the United States. And right here in these same United States there are all these different nationalities and races and religions living side by side in peace, harmony and contentment.

I thought of the Belgian family across the road from us being good friends of mine—I am of German ancestry—while the Belgians and the Germans over in Europe have been at each other's throats for centuries.

And as I thought I wondered what it is that brings all of us so close together in this country, and what keeps them all so far apart over in Europe and in Asia and in Africa.

I wish I had the answer.

My wife, with whom I discussed this phenomenon, had at least a partial solution of the problem.

"Just imagine," she said, "if every one of the forty-eight American states were a self-governing unit, with closed borders and passports and nationalistic pride and its own rulers and armies. Imagine a California navy and a New Hampshire navy. Imagine the people of each state speaking a different language so that they could not understand each other."

"How long do you think it would be before Ohio and Indiana or New York and New Jersey would be at war?"

We were still in the Italian restaurant when we had this little post-prandial discussion.

And then, strange to say, somebody put a nickel in the juke box and it started to play:

"God Bless America!"

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Pantomime Quiz," so far as its master of ceremonies knows, is the oldest show in television. He suspects its popularity is due partly to the fact that everybody is at heart a ham.

Four regulars compete each week with four guests at acting out song titles, proverbs, gag sayings, etc. It's the old parlor game of charades on a team basis.

Mike Stokely, the show's handsome producer-emcee, used to play "The Game" while a drama and radio student at Los Angeles City College. He was the first to realize it was a natural for television. He launched it on a local station in November, 1947. It's this summer's replacement for "My Friend Irma" on CBS-TV.

During 13 weeks on NBC-TV earlier this year, it pulled 6,000 letters a week. "We've dropped canasta," some letters said in effect: "you've given us a new game that the whole family can play." Most letters suggest stumblers for the contestants. But because of duplications, Stokely says he's lucky to pull eight useable ones out of a week's batch of mail. When Johnnie Ray's first record was hot, around 5,000 viewers suggested "The Little White Cloud That Cried."

Jackie Coogan, one of Stokely's regulars, successfully conveyed the movie title, "Abbott & Costello Meet Frankenstein," to his teammates. It was during the Kefauver committee investigation of Gambler Frank Costello. Jackie pretended he was in a fast game of cards.

Hans Conried, another regular,

Convention Review
The unseen audience took a beating this week from the convention commercials.... The Democrats can win by cutting them 20 per cent at their convention.... (Cut 'em 50 per cent and they're in!)... There is something awry and disconcerting in having the vital business of choosing a President in a great democracy interrupted every few minutes for a sales talk.... There were times when the video audience must have thought Betty Furness would win on the next ballot or that the main issue was whether Taft, Eisenhower or ammunition toothpaste could do the most for America and world peace.

Just when we were most undecided whether Bob, Ike or Doug MacArthur offered the best solution to global problems, we were swayed by a video commercial "You can be sure if it's Westinghouse...." And our conclusions after a debate on what this country needed most were seriously hampered by "You will find happiness in a seven-piece vacuum cleaner attachment kit" and "Let the open-handed flatiron make life easier for you!"... Time after time when the delegates seemed rushing to the support of one candidate or another, somebody burst into the picture with a fervent demand, "Buy this remarkable breath sweetener now!" "Get on the bandwagon with this electrical appliance TODAY!"

invented a routine for the verb "will" that is still his team's standard practice. He pretends to scribble a last testament and fall dead. Danny Thomas, a guest, failed to get across the gag saying, "Every man has his woman, but the ice man has his pick." But Vincent Price, a former regular, used his 6-foot-3 height to advantage to convey "He jumped off the Empire State Building to make a hit on Broadway."

Barry Sullivan's nimble-witted performances as a regular for a time on the show helped get him his M-G-M contract, Stokely said. Price has said his appearances on the program enabled him to switch from villainy to comedy in movies.

The funniest sight of all was wrestler Gorgeous George doing a jig to portray the composition, "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies."

With a video camera on him, a foon and his pretensions are soon parted.... Seven out of ten spectators at a convention too as if they came to settle a bet to hide from somebody or to catch up on last sleep....

Some observations after watching the televised convention.... Baldness in America has not been checked in the last four years.... There are too many men in the country who love the sound of their own voices.... The video camera not only puts a man under the spotlight but under the X-ray, the microscope and a chemical analysis.... You can tell a phony on television before he begins speaking.... There are still a lot of Americans who wear both suspenders and a belt.... Most of our political leaders have been tailors.... Tortoise shell glasses don't do anything for a delegate during a telecast.... With a video camera on him, a foon and his pretensions are soon parted.... Seven out of ten spectators at a convention too as if they came to settle a bet to hide from somebody or to catch up on last sleep....

Jury Lists Drawn For September Term Of County Court

84 Chosen To Serve On Jury Duty

Sizzling weather sent jury commissioners into the cool basement of the courthouse yesterday to set up the grand and petit jury list for the September term of court.

Commissioners C. M. Learn and C. E. Learn, clerk Gary Sprague and Sheriff Jacob Altomere on the last drawing did the work in a second floor room on the sunny south side of the courthouse.

Yesterday the room was throbbing-hot and the quartet removed to the basement storage room about 1:30 to begin operations.

Eight women's names were drawn from the jury wheel by Sheriff Altomere to serve on the grand jury's panel of 24 persons.

On the petit jury list of 60, women number 20.

Grand jurors are: Irene Wallace, George B. Dodd, Stroudsburg; Henry Johnson, Verona Michaels; Olive J. Gussert, East Stroudsburg; John M. ## Miss Ilona Massey Appears In Leading Role Of 'Angel Of Paris' At Pocono Playhouse

By Leonard Randolph Mountainhome—The art of bedroom comedy, when properly practiced, is undoubtedly entertaining to large audiences. Guy Bolton's three-act comedy "Angel In Paris" which opened last night at Pocono Playhouse here has at least a nodding acquaintance with such outstanding former successes as "Getting Gertie's Garter."

Filling the starring role in this production is Miss Ilona Massey. I think it's safe to say Miss Massey is one of the most beautiful and gracious ladies currently performing in such American arts as radio, motion pictures and video. Miss Massey also acquires herself reasonably well on the stage.

One might wish, however, that she depended a little less on physical movement and gestulation to put across the idea behind the character she is asked to play.

The plot of Mr. Bolton's play concerns a lady out on a fling. The lady is the wife of a staid British businessman. She "has her fling" in Paris at a house operated by a Madam Carlottiliams, playing an English butler.

85-Year-Old Woman's Arm Injured In Washing Machine

The right arm of an 85-year-old Stroudsburg woman was literally mangled when it was drawn into the wringer of an electric washing machine yesterday morning.

Mrs. Harry Dreher was putting some wash through the machine in the kitchen of her home at 21 N. Ninth St.

About 10:30 a. m. Mrs. Dreher's screams attracted the attention of neighbors on both sides and across the street.

Mrs. Warren Michaels, 19 N. Ninth St., rushed next door to see what was the matter. So did Mrs. Freda Eilenberger, mother-in-law of Daniel G. Warner, 23 N. Ninth St., and Sam Lee from across the street at 18 N. Ninth.

By the time neighbors ran into the kitchen, Mrs. Dreher was already releasing his wife's arm from the wringer. It had been drawn in past the elbow.

The skin was badly torn along the length of the arm.

Dr. Marshall Metzgar was called from his office to attend Mrs. Dreher. He gave first aid, then helped place the injured woman in the car of Daniel Warner, who had just driven up.

She was treated further at Dr. Metzgar's office, then returned home to rest. Mrs. Dreher was reported uncomfortable but in good condition last night at her home.

Pfe. Joseph Murphy of Stroudsburg State Police sub-station spoke with Johnson at the hospital yesterday afternoon. Johnson said he and Herpers left Pennington at 8:15 a. m. Friday, arriving at the home of Harold Crossdale about 10:15. After talking for about 15 minutes, Johnson said they made their way to the lower quarry on Crossdale's property to examine limestone formation.

After examining one section, Johnson said, they walked along a ridge to the upper quarry and about 50 feet from the point, he said he apparently brushed against the cable. He told police he hollered for Herpers, then lost consciousness.

He said it was about an hour later when he revived. His cries for help between 1 and 1:30 p. m. brought Crossdale to the scene.

Both men were on duty with the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development and were reported on the Pennsylvania side of the Delaware River to examine rock formations to learn if they coincided with those on the New Jersey shore.

The first time in five years. It comes from Pottstown, Pa.

The Pottstown lodge wrested the title from the Lancaster, Pa., team which had held it since 1947.

The judges picked Pottstown after watching the team in purple tunics, white trousers and yellow plumes—briskly execute complex steps on the de-iced skating rink in Rockefeller Plaza.

Greene—somewhat boisterously played by Marie Kenney.

The comedy, of course, results in the attempt to withhold her identity from both her husband and her lover—played by Tony Dowling and Kirk Alyn, respectively.

The audience laughed, titrated and howled in all the appropriate places. There were also numerous comments on Miss Massey's gowns.

In the supporting cast two players stood out brilliantly in small parts. Miss Jean Stapleton again proved herself to be a highly talented and versatile actress. The audience and I, happily, agreed on one thing, they gave Miss Stapleton a round of applause on her exit line—an overture which I thought well deserved.

In the part of the American ingenue, Miss Rachel Taylor was both convincing and charming. One other small bit added a good touch to the performance—this was contributed by Scott Willegated by a Madam Carlottiliams, playing an English butler.

Club Installs New Officers

W. Adolph Rake, Monroe County commissioner, was installed last night as president of East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

Members met for a dinner-business meeting at the Log House tearoom along Route 209 west of Stroudsburg.

District Governor Harold Cregar, Easton, installed Mr. Rake and these other officers:

Roger Dunning, new past president; Howard S. Eckert, vice president; Gordon Coy Jr., secretary; Gilbert Dunning, assistant secretary; Herbert Rupprecht, treasurer.

New board of control consists of Carl A. Nauman, Harry Lewis and Henry Peters.

Relief Costs For Year Set At $393,724

It cost $393,724 for public assistance in Monroe County during the year ending December, 1951.

The expenditure dealt with monthly average of 871 cases, representing a new low of 26 per cent of the county's population.

Actual cost of regular assistance grants ran to $335,698, while administrative costs and miscellaneous assistance services cost $58,026.

Total per capita costs amounted to $11.66 of which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania paid $6.08 and the federal government $5.57.

In their report of the year's assistance costs, the state broke down their figures to cover each phase of assistance.

Aid to the disabled, for instance, cost $21,051 for the year, averaging 38 cases a month and involving some 40 persons.

Cost of old age assistance ranged to $173,573, covering an average of 369 cases and 386 persons. Average monthly grant was $39.15 or $37.49 per person.

Blind pension allotments totaled $22,281 for an average of 44 persons with the average monthly grant and per person of $39.65.

Total expenditure in the aid to dependent children category was $84,431 for an average of 80 cases covering a total of 307 persons. Average monthly grant was $88.04 and average per person was $23.38.

General assistance category created a total expenditure of $34,362 for an average of 52 cases and some 97 persons. Average monthly grant was $54.63 and average payment per person was $29.47.

Lack Of Steel Holds Up Work On Highway

Work will start again on Fox-town Hill "the day after the steel strike is settled."

In the meantime the highway construction job will remain dormant.

About 25 per cent of the project has been completed. If the strike had not blasted the schedule, the work would be about 60 per cent finished.

The work was halted before any attempt was made to tear up the blacktop. If the blacktop had been ripped off, the route now would be reduced to two lanes and would have created a tremendous summertime bottleneck for vacationers.

At present there is a three-lane passage.

Contractors have been seeking some type of material or stone which would be available but would still fit the specifications. So far they have been unsuccessful.

The materials have been purchased from Bethlehem Steel Co. so far. Fruitless queries to other companies have shown that since the strike, most contractors who were held up on similar construction jobs had the same ideas about buying other materials from another source. Result: backlogs of orders still unfilled and unfillable—again because of the national steel strike.

Had the strike not interrupted, chances were good for completion of the resurfacing and improvement ahead of schedule.

Monroe County is not the only district faced with road materials shortage problems. Work also is at a standstill on the Route 22 by-pass at Easton—for the same reason. Contractors are reported "not eager" to put in bids on new jobs because of the uncertainty of getting materials to do the work.

C. Of C. Appoints Committee To Make Study Of Parking Problem In The Stroudsburgs

The parking problem in the Stroudsburgs will be studied by a special committee of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce named yesterday by Merle C. Ostrom, president, after a discussion of this specific matter by the board of directors.

Max Stadfeld, Paul Berner, Hanford Cleveland and Gerald P. O'Neill will carry out the study.

The Chamber already has a highway-traffic committee function to study the other phase of the overall problem affecting business in the two communities.

This group consists of Lester Abloff, Chief of Police Arthur Swink, Edward C. Hess, Walter Marshall, Jack Crandall, William Hoffman. Mr. Crandall represents the Pocono Mountains Automobile Club.

The highway-traffic study group began to function recently. They are expected to come up with a report based on their own and the research of various agencies.

R. LeRoy Dengler, chairman of the Memorial Parkway Committee, filed a report regarding the Pocono Manor conference with Gov. John S. Fine at which the chief executive said if the parkway is economically sound he will be for it regardless of those who endorse it or those who oppose it.

Preliminary discussions on Pennsylvania Week brought a decision to withhold special planning until a county chairman is named for Monroe County. The regional chairman is Rep. Vince Gutendorf, Wilkes-Barre.

Directors unanimously adopted a resolution paying tribute to Gilbert L. Smir for his voting and citizenship—alertness letters which have won wide and very favorable comment.

Garden Club Will Meet At Buck Hill Falls Thursday

Pennsylvania's growing list of "Memorial Forests" now includes the name of Jenkins Woods, a primeval wooded area at Buck Hill Falls, Monroe County, and the members of the Monroe County Garden Club will hold the July meeting there Thursday of this week, July 17.

A tour of the grounds and "The Falls" will be conducted by Thomas Knepp, of Stroudsburg and Buck Hill Falls Inn. Mr. Knepp will welcome the members of the Garden Club at the main date of the Inn at 11 a. m. and will conduct the tour from that point.

Members are requested to bring their membership cards to this meeting, and for the benefit of those who have not secured cards, they may do so by contacting Mrs. Frank Stackhouse, financial secretary, at home.

Members will furnish their own transportation or contact other members relative to means of transportation. Due to the illness of Mrs. William Hannas, chairman of the tea committee for the July meeting, Mrs. Raymond Price, of Mountainhome, and a member of the tea committee will substitute for Mrs. Hannas, and furnish the beverage, cups, etc. However, members are to furnish their own food, and other essentials necessary for an outdoor meal.

Mr. Knepp has suggested that members be ready to start the tour promptly at 12:30 p. m., since he is scheduled to conduct another tour later in the afternoon. Jenkins Woods contain giant hemlock, sugar maple, ash, tulip, black and yellow birch, oak, gum, sassafras and white pine. Some idea as to the unspoiled nature of Jenkins Woods may be gathered from measurements made of certain trees.

The tallest tree is a hemlock measuring 38 inches in diameter; the stoutest, a sugar maple, with a girth of 10 feet. Included in the Jenkins collection are many exotic trees and a special one is a "Pride of Kent" apple tree, descendant of the tree from which the apple is said to have fallen on the head of Sir Isaac Newton, touching off his theory of gravity.

Jenkins Woods is a part of the 7,000 acres of forest land set aside by Buck Hill Falls Company in honor of Charles F. Jenkins and his father, Howard F. Jenkins, former president of the company.

The Monroe County Garden Club will be guests of the management of Buck Hill Falls Company for Thursday's meeting through the courtesy of Clifford Gilliam and Ted Jenkins with Mr. Knepp as host for the tour. This meeting is one of the high lights of the yearly program of the garden club and all members are urged to visit the attractive spot. In case of rain, the picnic will be held indoors at "The Inn."

VFW Aux. Make Many Dressings

Reports on cancer dressing work and other activities of the VFW Auxiliary were given at the meeting at the home last night with Evelyn Tweedie, the president, in charge.

One new member, Elva Clugston, was initiated during the course of the session. A letter was received from a boy in service for cigarettes which had been sent to him by the group.

The attendance prizes went to Mrs. Katherine Weary and Mrs. Bessie Cooke.

The report on cancer dressing work showed that seven members had worked from 8 to 10 p. m. and finished 316 dressings. Those who cooperated were: Mrs. Muriel Hughes, chairman; Pat Clifton, Sadie Decker, Mary Arnold, Lucille Anuskevich, E. Whitman and H. Gurney.

The group for making the dressings meets every second Wednesday of the month. The next meeting will take place August 13.

Members of the Auxiliary were requested to volunteer to act on three-hour shifts as air raid assistants.

Aid Society At Derhammer's

Kunkletown—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Kunkletown Church met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Elsie Derhammer where they quilted all day. In the afternoon a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Earl Lobach in charge. Plans were discussed for projects to help raise money for the new pews for the church. After the meeting Mrs. Derhammer and Mrs. Howard Christman treated the group to ice cream and soda. Others present were Mrs. Lobach, Mrs. Hattie Hawk, Mrs. Harvey Smale, Mrs. Adan Bohner, Mrs. Sula Peters, Mrs. Mabel Gower.

Debra Mansfield Is One Year Old

Debra Lee Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Mansfield, 930 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, is today celebrating her first birthday. There will be a house party with traditional birthday cake and neighbors participating.

Athletes Help Richard Owens Honor Natal Day

Richard W. Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Owens, of 20 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, was 19 years old yesterday. The event was celebrated Sunday evening with a Maryland fried chicken dinner at the Log House tea room, near Stroudsburg.

One of the features was the 19-pound birthday cake decorated by his father, a pound for each year of the young man's life. The cake was decorated with pennants of SHS, where he starred in athletics, and Susquehanna University, where he is a student, and also the insignia of the fraternity Phi Mu Delta, of which he is a member.

The dinner was enjoyed by guests including members of the 1951 SHS varsity basketball team of which he was a member.

Present were: Alden "Red" Fetherman, Forrest Mervine Jr., student at Dartmouth College; Gary Emanuel, Penn State College; Robert Fable, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College; Annette Williams, Wilkes-Barre; Joan Papson, Lois Bechtold and Rose Scavo, all of Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Owens and the honor guest, Richard Owens.

Jack Harmon, student at Penn State College, was invited, but was unable to attend.

Mrs. Oscar Mosteller Is Given Honor

Mrs. Catherine Mosteller, widow of Oscar Mosteller, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary at her home, 1008 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, yesterday, with members of her family and friends assisting and extending their good wishes for future similar events.

Members of the family spent most of the day with their aged mother, who graciously acknowledged the many expressions of good will extended her. Mrs. Mosteller enjoyed good health and looks after her household duties daily.

There was a birthday dinner for the members of the family featured by a beautifully decorated cake. She was the recipient of many gifts and cards. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Members of the family and guests in attendance were: Mrs. Hugh Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Edwards and sons, Bobby and Kenneth, of Wyckoff, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mosteller, of Pen Argil; Mr. and Mrs. Rocco English, of Fort Fort.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rinehart, Mrs. Johnson Mosteller, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goodwin, Mrs. John Papson, Brewster, Ala., summing here with her daughters, Katherine, Joan, Betty and Judy, Miss Elizabeth Martin and Miss Frances S. Everitt.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mr. and Mrs. Halsey M. Marvin, of 129 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, had as their weekend guests, Mrs. Frank Hogan, of Hanover, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kline, of Sussex, N. J.

Rev. and Mrs. Stanley N. Walton and daughter, Marie, and Miss Grace Jackson, of Bethlehem, were Sunday night callers of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Everitt, Lindbergh Ave., Stroudsburg.

Rev. Asa S. Wohlson, of Allentown, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. P. N. Wohlson, is celebrating his birthday today. The former and wife were guests of his parents here Sunday. Accompanied by their two children, Rev. Asa and wife left Monday for New Hampshire to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rehrig have returned to their home at Rumford, R. I., after spending a two-week vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Clair Leary, parents of Mrs. Rehrig, at their 6 N. Sixth St. home, Stroudsburg.

Joan Luzinski Is 8 Years Old

Joan Marie Luzinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Luzinski, of 424 Shook Ave., celebrated her eighth birthday on July 8, at her home with a lawn party. Games were played with prizes won by Romyne Huffsmith and Bonita Yost. Refreshments, including a birthday cake, were served picnic-style on the lawn. Joan received many gifts.

Those present were: Carol Lynn McKibben, Patty Ann Ransly, Mary Hoffman, Romyne Huffsmith, Mary Teeter, Lanette Lockard, Ann Dennis, Bonita Yost, Margaret Fry, Patricia Fry, and Joan and her brother Joey.

Judith Bush and Nancy Teeter sent gifts but were unable to attend.

Kirk R. Shaw Takes Miss Wanda Quick As His Bride

Miss Wanda Quick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Quick, of Tobyhanna, became the bride of Kirk R. Shaw, of Stroudsburg, in a ceremony performed at the Tobyhanna Methodist Church Saturday, June 28, at 3 p. m.

Rev. Richard Devor, pastor of the church, performed the impressive double ring ceremony in the candlelighted church which was decorated with mixed flowers. Mrs. Edgar Wiley, of Tobyhanna, was organist and furnished suitable wedding music.

The bride wore a pink lace ballgown length gown with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Walter Herbster, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor and wore a blue ballgown length gown with blue accessories. Mrs. Frank Hibbs, also the bride's sister, bridesmaid, was attired in a Nile green dress with green accessories. They both carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

John Shaw, of Cheyney, Pa., served as his brother's best man. John Boushelt and Jack Beers, both of East Stroudsburg, acted as ushers.

The bride's mother wore an ice blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Real, wore a brown print dress with white accessories and also a white gardenia corsage.

A reception for 100 guests was held following the ceremony at the Brookside Hotel, home of the bride's grandfather, S. S. Quick. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw spent their honeymoon at Shawwood, N. J. Mrs. Shaw wore for her going-away outfit a navy and white suit with navy accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The bride was graduated from the Coolbaugh Township High School and is employed at the Art Metal Co. plant. The bridegroom was graduated from the East Stroudsburg High School and is also an Art Metal Co. employee. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are at home at their apartment, 539 Ann St., Stroudsburg.

There were five children born to the union, four daughters and a son. The latter, John E. Butts Jr., was killed in fighting in the Alpine Mountains, Italy, April 15, 1945, in World War Two.

The four daughters with their husbands all assisted their parents in observing the anniversary. They are: Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and Mrs. Fred C. Lesonsie and Mr. and Mrs. Charles LaBadie and son, Charles, all of East Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard LeFevre, of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Lester and the latter's son and wife, also were present.

They were presented with a four-tiered wedding cake by the Millers and Lesonsies at a dinner served on Sunday.

Mr. Butts was employed as an engineer on the DL&W Railroad for 41 years and seven months, retiring Feb. 21, 1945. Both Mr. and Mrs. Butts are active members of the First Baptist Church, East Stroudsburg, and regular attendants.

Plan Service Program For Helping Cancer Patients

A service program planned for cancer patients in this community was described today as "organized friendliness and neighborly help for those who are ill."

An active service project of the American Cancer Society will be inaugurated here in the near future, Mrs. Robert Miller, county captain, announced. "What this means," she said, "is that we will recruit, train and supervise volunteers for many services to the cancer patient."

"The word 'service' can be interpreted to mean just old-fashioned helpfulness," she added. "We know that great numbers of people here would be willing to help a neighbor who is ill with cancer."

There are many cancer cases in this community every year which place considerable burdens on their families. There even are some who, without families or friends, bear the burden alone.

But the ACS official warned that service work must be properly organized. "The fact that most people want to be helpful is only the initial step. Most of them are not familiar with what they can do to alleviate suffering and all of them must be properly indoctrinated in the tasks to which they are assigned."

Some of the things that ACS volunteers can do include transporting patients to and from treatment clinics or hospitals, making dressings, providing the many things that bed-ridden patients need to make them more comfortable or cheerful.

Major sick room equipment, including articles ranging from beds and mattresses to oxygen masks, will be loaned by the ACS unit within the near future.

Another group of materials "expendable gift supplies" ranges from absorbent cotton to bed-room slippers or donations to buy these items are accepted.

The preparation of many of these materials and the distribution of them through various agencies or directly to the patient's home is part of the tentative program planned for this community.

After proper training, volunteers make regular visits to the homes of cancer patients. Sometimes they can substitute for the housewife or practical nurse while they have an afternoon off. They can remove some of the burden of caring for children in the family. They can do such helpful tasks as reading to the patient, returning books to the library, doing the marketing or even helping out with occasional housework.

"Most anyone can help in this work, one way or another," Mrs. Miller said. "We are going to need a large number of volunteers—people who will be devoted to (1) cancer control and (2) to easing the suffering of those who already have cancer."

The loan closet and the dressings program are under the supervision of Mrs. Elsie Stanford with Dr. E. T. Horn Jr., of Tannersville, service chairman for the Monroe County Unit, ACS. The headquarters for the local office of ACS is located upstairs at 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg, and is open daily 12:30-4:30 p. m. week days. The telephone number is 542-J—or address your inquiries or contributions to Post-office Box 506, Stroudsburg.

Beakleville 4-H Club Plan Their Projects

The Beakleville 4-H Club picnic and meeting which was to have been held last Wednesday was postponed until the following day due to the heavy rains. Members gathered at the present Sue Wick's home in the early afternoon in order to enjoy a swim and picnic.

This was followed later by the business meeting during which discussion of projects took place and the committee expressed great satisfaction of the personal inspection conducted the week previous.

Following adjournment of the meeting the most was made of the remaining time in the sport of games, square dancing and a mock Hillbilly Wedding. Sandy Edelman enacted the part of the groom, Zandy Wicks the bride and Thad Wicks the flower girl. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, August 4.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Anything can happen at Wyckoff's. That's what one of my Delaware Water Gap friends says, and she's delighted by the recent experience which proves her story. According to Miss Nellie Burd, she was walking through the second floor one afternoon when she met Viola Feltham, our needlework artist. "Oh," said Viola, "what a beautiful design. I've been looking for something like that for ages and could never find it. Would you mind very much if I sketched the print in your dress?"

Miss Burd, it seems, was wearing a paisley, and because she too considered it a very pretty pattern, she was pleased to cooperate. "So there I stood, by the sewing machine," she says, "while Mrs. Feltham took the hem of my dress and sketched away."

I'm grateful for that little story because it not only shows what a wide-awake person we have at Wyckoff's, but what friendly, considerate customers make this their shopping headquarters. Any day now we expect to see the paisley print make its debut as delicate scroll work on a collar and cuff set, or over the pockets of a new skirt.

Marion Leedom tells me that the mosquito problem will be over for everyone who invests in the Insect-O-Lite which has just arrived in our gift department. The liquid in these lamps may be used either as a light to keep the pests away, or a spray which is equally effective. The complete lamp is $1, and the re-fills are 50c. Two lamps, or $2, with refill come boxed at $3. . . . New in the line of hosiery is Kripple-Film by Granite which gives the appearance of being a very fine mesh. It is actually not a mesh however - - - it's just the peculiar twist of the threads that gives this appearance when the stocking is "at ease". Insert your hand or leg, however, and you are amazed at the stocking's elasticity. It stretches seemingly without limit, and is so fine there appears to be no stocking at all. All of this means, of course, that this hose, with its ample "give" should also have ample "take" - - - and should wear indefinitely. These come in only one beautiful, neutral summer shade at $1.95 a pair. . . .

Holt Wyckoff told me that Souvillas Blackman was the winner of our Blackman Club sale, with Laura Fabel, second, and Sylvia Strunk, Rachel Arnold and Nellie Burt tie for third place. . . . A few minutes ago, I called to the switchboard operator to place a person to person call. When she turned to answer me, imagine my surprise to find NOT Edna Saylor (home from Arizona) but Mable Anderson, of advertising. Just as I said in the first paragraph—ANYTHING can happen at Wyckoff's.

Pressmen's Unit Annual Picnic At CLU Park

The Pressmen's and Assistants' Union held their annual picnic at CLU park Saturday afternoon when there was a large turnout of members and their friends.

The activities got under way at 1 p. m. and included games and contests of a varied nature highlighted with a picnic luncheon.

Among the prizes awarded was one to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Delaria, wedded longest time, and to Mr. and Mrs. Art Boushelt, couple most recently wedded.

Other prizes were awarded Kenny Avery and Charlotte Kenny.

Members of the auxiliary assisted in making the prize awards.

Local Young Man Is Given A Pastorate

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chester, of 726 Main St., Stroudsburg, are in receipt of a letter from their son, Milton R. Chester, in which he informed them that he had been made pastor of a Methodist church, located at Cloudercroft, New Mexico, 19 miles from his base.

Milton is serving in the Air Force band at Holloman Airbase, New Mexico. He has been following the call of the ministry for some time in addition to his service in the Airbase band.

According to the letter, there was "much competition for the pastorate of the Cloudercroft church, situated in a community of about 2,000 population, much after that of an area in Monroe County. Milton is now a licensed preacher."

In addition to the signal honor given him as pastor of the church, he was also made assistant chaplain of his base.

The young man will be remembered for his outstanding activities as a student at Stroudsburg High School where he was a leader in his class. Last February he visited his parents accompanied by his wife, on their honeymoon.

County Asked To Share Bridge Approach Costs

State Fixes Damages At Over $200,000

Monroe County has been asked to pay—or pay part of—damages totaling $213,625 arising from highway construction at Delaware Water Gap and in Smithfield Township.

The request was made to commissioners in a letter from R. E. Boyer, Allentown, State Highway Department district engineer.

The request on the part of the State, asking the local district to assume all or part of the damages resulting from settlements to persons whose property abuts on the construction is more or less routine.

The county legally may agree to pay all, part, or none of the damages.

The damages referred to result from the proposed approach to the new Delaware River Bridge at Water Gap.

The highway will abut properties in Delaware Water Gap borough and in Smithfield Township.

A breakdown of the request showed damages of $142,900 are expected along Route 776 in the borough on Section 13, from Station 20-00 to 31-24; and Route 166, Smithfield Township, Section 13, from Station 209-00 to 235-00; and damages of $70,725 are expected along Route 776 in the borough and township on Section 1A from Station 51-24 to 22-01.

Plans for the construction of the four-lane approach were filed at the courthouse early this month.

It is understood the specifications are completed and bids will be let shortly. No date has been set for completion of the superhighway program but it has been indicated the approach may not be ready before the Summer of 1954.

"My life saved by Kaiser's safety front seat"

Says Donald E. Holmes, of Coldwater, Mich.

Here's what happened:

Swerving desperately to avoid another car, Mr. Holmes crashed his '52 Kaiser head-on into a pole on U.S. Highway 112, Allen, Michigan, last May 27.

Yet he walked away from the wreck—unharmed! Why? Because the Kaiser's instrument panel was padded...no protruding knobs to injure him...and the windshield pushed outward in one piece! "In any other car I might have been killed!" Mr. Holmes writes.

This extra safety and extra value explain why thousands have switched to Kaiser. The car with the world's safest front seat! With America's lowest center of gravity! Largest glass area in any sedan! Easiest steering! Hand-somest "hardtop" styling at regular sedan price! Mobilgas economy winner—24.6 miles a gallon!

Drive a Kaiser, and you'll agree...it's your safest buy today!

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Members of the Pocono Mountain League will be called upon to settle a protest at its meeting Monday, at the Pohopoko Hotel, in Effort. Apparently the protest, being carried out by West End A. C., isn't concerned with having the second game of Sunday's double header with Barrett replayed, but apparently is directed at the umpires who worked the game mainly and the entire Blue Mountain Umpires Association in general. Team representatives, according to John Wernett, league secretary, will decide on the issue next Monday.

The entire problem arose when Jim Correll, popular pilot of the West End club, was ejected in the second game of Sunday's bargain bill by Pete Gorant, the base umpire. The dispute which resulted in Correll's ejection was over a close play at first base, after the ruling went in favor of the visiting Barrett contingent. There was a real ruckus after the call and only after a threat of forfeiture by Tom Sommers, umpire in charge of the game, did the contest resume its normal course.

Wernett reported that the West End club had presented its forfeit money, $15, and was fully intent on carrying the protest to the league next Monday, even though a protest in such a case is rarely carried out and still more rarely won. Protests are usually considered hopeless unless they are based on a rule violation or an improper interpretation of a rule by an umpire. However, having a player banished from a game, or basing a protest on an umpire's decision, such as safe or out, ball or strike, legal or illegal catch, usually results in nothing but time wasted.

Yet, in all fairness to both sides, the West End club, which has undergone a complete face lifting this season, certainly has the right to make all sorts of protests, as long as they are carried out legally and through the correct channels. Regardless of the result of the protest hearing, the hearing itself will undoubtedly be the chief topic of conversation at Monday's meeting, at which time Clint Getz, circuit president, will be in charge of the gathering and will undoubtedly run the hearing from the chair.

The next two meetings of the Pocono Mountain League will be held at the Pohopoko Hotel, due to the increased business at the Bartonville Hotel on Monday, during the summer months, this column has been informed. However, the league plans to resume its meetings at Bartonville Hotel in September. The next clash of first place Kunkletown and second place Bushkill, at Bushkill, should draw one of the largest crowds in the history of the Pocono Mountain League.

Although Harry Schaefer, who formerly pitched for the Stroudsburg Poconos and graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, wasn't one of two players recalled from Kansas City, by the parent New York Yankees, yesterday, the lanky southpaw had his best week since being sent to the American Association by the Yankees earlier in the present campaign. Harry won two games, worked 18 and one-third innings, fanned 15 batters, walked 11 and gave up only 10 hits. The victories were over Milwaukee and Indianapolis, the second and fifth place clubs in the circuit at the present time.

The Milwaukee victory was a 2-1 decision in 10 innings, during which Schaefer gave up only four safeties, struck out 10 batters and walked only six. The win over Indianapolis was a 4-1 margin in the regulation nine innings, although Harry was relieved with one out in the ninth frame. During this contest Schaefer gave up six hits, walked five and struck out the same number. The former Pocono player also hit safely twice in three times at the plate and drove home one of the winning runs. Harry also had one hit in four times at bat against Milwaukee.

Pocono A. C. has committed a grand total of 13 errors in its last two games and will have to plug the leaks in its defense if Monroe County's entry in the Blue Mountain League hopes to finish in the first division. The charges of Manager John Schenover tangle with Johnsonville today, at Gordon Giffels field. It will be the first meeting of the two foes this season and this is one of the games the A. C. contingent must win if it hopes to land a spot in the post-season playoffs.

Sunday's visit to Tatamy was the initial contest on that field for Pocono A. C. this season, due to the funny work of the weatherman. Today's clash, listed for 6:15 p. m. will also be the first meeting of the present campaign between Pocono A. C. and Johnsonville. The bright sun on Sunday forced the moving of cars at several baseball games in the area, due to the bright reflections coming off the highly polished surfaces of the automobiles. Howard "Howie" Gutshall, former outfielder with Napaneth, in the early days of the North Atlantic League, was hitting .457 for Tatamy in fore Sunday's game.

Hell Drivers To Present Full Show At Local Track

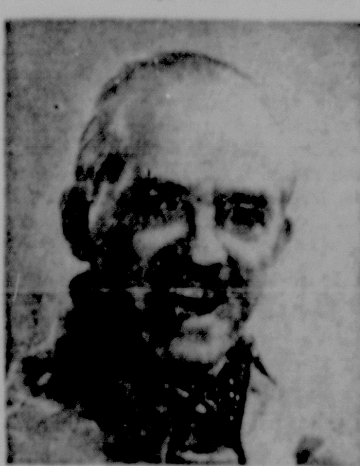

Thrill seekers are promised 90 minutes of excitement at Stroudsburg Speedway tomorrow night when the original Lucky Hell Drivers, who for many years have held top spot in the estimation of thrill show fans, make their debut here.

Headed by John F. "Irish" Horan, the inimitable personality who for many years has announced the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis and formerly was general manager of the late Lucky Teller production, the thrill show here will be highlighted by the catapulting of a full sized stock automobile from the mouth of a huge cannon.

Horan and Bill Horton, occupants of the car to be propelled from the barrel of this cannon, originated the idea, and the millions of fans who have witnessed the feat attest to it as outstanding in the realm of real excitement.

When Horton and car, a 1930 model, enter the cannon's mouth, only an inch and three quarters of space exists on either side of the car. The combustion that follows sends the car at a speed of at least 55 miles an hour through the air about 80 feet where it finally lands (sometimes at least on a receiving ramp. The cannon is erected on a large tractor-trailer and Horton and car hit a height of about 25 feet when enroute to the expected point of destination.

Show
Horan started the show in 1941 and is considered an authority on sports and stock cars, as well as automobile racing events. He is the producer, manager and announcer of this thrill show and concluded his 12 year dream of something unusual in thrills with the introduction of the cannon.

There are 28 events in all, each a former top feature of shows of past years. Cars will be rolled end over end, a car will be smashed through a flaming barrier, but it will smash the barrier in mid-air as it leaps from one low ramp-way through space and lands on another.

Other spine ticklers are the four car Hell Driving, the two-wheel antics of the drivers and revival of the reverse spins, a slide for life, intermingled with hilarious comedy provided by "Pancho" Roemer.

Aiding Horan and Roberts in the production are "Whitey" Reese, Bobbie Cable and Johnny LaPar.

Stroudsburg Speedway is located near the East Stroudsburg Airport, off Route 209. The thrill show is slated to begin at 8 p. m.

Six Runs In Fifth Enable Peoples Coal To Gain Verdict

Peoples Coal Co. used six runs in the fifth inning as its winning margin over the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday, 8-5, in a Stroudsburg Little League game played on the circuit's official field.

The Penn-Stroud club had opened a 1-0 edge in the second frame and emerged from the fourth round with a 3-2 advantage.

Penn-Stroud went even higher in the top of the fifth, when

Error Allows Blues To Down Reds

An error in the ninth inning enabled the Blues to take the measure of the Reds in the rubber game of the Monroe County Softball All-Star series, 8-6, on the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field yesterday.

The Blues won the opening game of the series, 15-2, but the Reds came back to even matters, 3-2.

Even Score

Yesterday's contest was all even, at 6-a.m., going into the final round, when the defensive lapse admitted the seventh and eighth tallies for the Blues, which proved to be the winning margin, as the Reds failed to score in the bottom of the ninth and final round.

Bill Weber pitched the first seven innings for the losing team, but Gail Fegley, who moved in from right field to take over the mound duties in the eighth, was charged with the loss.

Marcus "Mark" Decker went the route in a winning cause.

The circuit returns to its regular schedule today.

Little Bigger League To Open Friday

Final preparations for the opening of the Little Bigger League of the Stroudsburg on Friday of this week were completed last night, at a meeting of the circuit at the Monroe County YMCA.

League officials announced the schedule for the first two days, which finds International Boiler and Line Material clashing at Gordon Giffels field, and Worthington Mower meeting Monroe Silk at the East Stroudsburg Playground on Friday. Both these games are scheduled to get underway at 6:15 p. m.

Saturday

Saturday's schedule, with games listed to begin at 2:15 p. m., will send International Boiler against Worthington Mower, at Giffels field, while Line Material and Monroe Silk battle at the East Stroudsburg Playground.

Line Material and Monroe Silk are slated to take part in a practice game at Giffels field tomorrow, at 6:15. At the same time the International Boiler club will practice at the East Stroudsburg Playground.

It was also announced by Walter McClelland, league secretary, that Frank Bell, Russ Bergman, Tom Sommers and Pete Gorant have agreed to umpire in the circuit. McClelland revealed that the league would be glad to hear from additional umpire volunteers. Umpires will be fully outfitted, it was stated.

A's Nip Chisox In Tenth, 2-1

Philadelphia (AP)—Dave Philley's fourth hit, a clutch 10th inning single to center, scored Eddie Joost to give the Philadelphia Athletics a 2-1 triumph last night over the Chicago White Sox.

National Bank Rallies To Take Measure Of Cramer Foe

A big seven-run explosion in the bottom of the fifth inning enabled the National Bank to escape with a 12-10 victory over Cramer's Lumber Co. yesterday, on the East Stroudsburg Little League field.

Cramer's crew held an 8-5 lead going into the bottom of the fifth, when the National Bank opened its vaults and let go with a lead of base hits to overcome the Lumbermen.

The Methodists and Peters-Arnold-Howell are scheduled to clash on the same field today, at 6:30 p. m.

Yankees Send Cerv To Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City baseball club of the American Association yesterday announced that outfielder Bob Cerv, now with the New York Yankees, is being returned here on option.

Cerv was the Association's leading slugger last year.

Recall

At the same time the Yankees are recalling Blues pitcher Tom Gorman and they have purchased infielder Kal Segrist from the Kansas City Blues.

The Blues are also recalling from Birmingham, left handed pitcher Jim Russell who set a record of six wins to one loss this season. George Maier, left handed pitcher, is being sent to Birmingham on option and catcher Bob O'Neal has been sold to Syracuse.

Lake Harmony Scores Double Victory Over Reederers In Pocono Mountains League Contest

Reederers—Lake Harmony scored a double victory over Reederers in a Pocono Mountains League twin bill played here on the losing club's home field on Sunday. Lake Harmony won the nine-inning nightcap, 15-5, then bounced back to make it a perfect day by winning the seven-inning day game, 9-0.

The outcome of both games was never in doubt, as the visiting Lake Harmony club took early leads and protected its front running position through the remainder of the game.

Hurdler To Lead United States

By Ted Smith

Helsinki, (AP)—Lee Yoder, 400-meter hurdler from the University of Arkansas, yesterday drew the honor of being the first American athlete to meet a Russian rival in the 1952 Olympic games.

Yoder, top seeded in the second heat of the long hurdle race, faces Timofee Luvy, the Soviet's third best man. They race Sunday in the opening competition. Three men from each heat qualify for the second round of trials in the event.

Pre-Olympic competition started yesterday in basketball as 13 teams began a round robin to determine the six that will enter game competition next week. The results were:

Hungary 75, Greece 38.

Cuba 39, Belgium 57.

Canada 68, Italy 57.

Philippines 57, Israel 47.

Poland 60, Switzerland 58.

Egypt 64, Turkey 45.

The United States, as defending Olympic champions, and Russia, the European champions, were automatically qualified with

Today the elimination rounds start in soccer with the game between Russia and Bulgaria at Kotka, 83 miles to the east, the feature of the day. The United States meets Italy tomorrow at Tampere, 100 miles to the west of here.

Report

The eliminations were needed to complete the competitions within the regular period of the games, July 19-August 3. Meanwhile the political situation still simmered. The East German team, mostly yachtsmen, arrived and West Germany has been recognized.

Nationalist China is due this week and Red China was reported enroute. Both Red and Nationalist China have been denied entry on the grounds their dues aren't paid.

A high government source indicated Finland will endeavor to bring both Red China and East Germany into the games. Finland already has recognized Red China's Peiping Government.

Olympic Star Wearing Shoes

Helsinki, (AP)—Wes Santee, the Kansas distance star, has been put on shoes at last. Up to now he has worn only boots or running spikes.

Long Time

"These white shoes I'm wearing as part of the Olympic uniform are the first I've worn since I was a little boy going to Sunday school," said Santee, who comes from a Kansas ranch. "I feel like I've got bushel baskets on both feet."

Santee is the runner who had such a difficult time deciding his best distance for the Olympic grind.

Blouse Plant Employs 60 Persons At Kresgeville

The forty-fifth of a series of articles dealing with industrial operations in Monroe County is presented today by The Daily Record. Aim of the series is to acquaint all citizens with what is produced here; how it is made; the type of people and skills engaged in such production and the economic impact of each industry on this region.

By James B. Gaffney
Kresgeville Manufacturing Co., Inc., in Kresgeville employs 60 persons and is making a sizable contribution toward the stability of that area in the county.

Headed by Gus Verona of Pen Argyl, the mill began operations as a blouse contracting firm in June, 1946, in what formerly was a dance pavilion, just north of the center of the community.

Payroll totals about

$2500 and blouses of decorative description and high quality are finished there.

The cutting operation is done by Verona's brother, Thomas, at his own plant in Pen Argyl. The brothers, their wives and Irene Pysker are the controlling factors in the corporation's destiny. Gus is president; Tom, vice president; Jennie Verona, Tom's wife is treasurer; Lena Verona, Gus' wife is a director and Irene Pysker is the secretary.

Tricot and crepe houses are sewed, the button holes made and blouses are pressed, trimmed and packed at the mill. Shipments are made to New York where they are distributed throughout the country.

Blouses in sizes 32, 34, 36 and 38 are finished in Kresgeville. Seldom are size 40s completed, this work being done elsewhere.

Tricot, a high quality cloth is made by Bangor Mills, Inc. in Pen Argyl and the bolts of material are delivered to Kresgeville where they are transformed into exquisite women's blouses.

Highly competitive in the market today, the blouse industry is maintaining a steady pace and employment rolls are generally steady. Although work fluctuates on the supply and demand basis, the Kresgeville mill has afforded good employment to its personnel and looks forward to continued success.

Fresh Air Tots To Be Entertained

Fresh Air Children who are now guests of many families in Monroe County will again be guests at a special party to be staged in the Penn-Stroud Hotel Tuesday, July 22.

One of the big events during their two weeks vacation in this region, the party will start at 6:30 p.m. in charge of Toni Spaulding of WVPO, the sponsoring agency. Miss Spaulding noted that last year many contributed cakes, cookies and candy for distribution among the Fresh Airs. A great deal of this came from persons who were not able to take children.

Contacts for such gifts should be with WVPO. Call 1102 so that contributions may be listed and suitable arrangement made.

One of the important reasons for the success of last year's party was the number of contributions.

Dr. Theodore S. Hsu will be out of town July 3 to July 20. Office will reopen on Monday, July 21, 1952.—Adv.

Edwards Indicates Preference For Gov. Adlai Stevenson

has been done and have no definite policy. Their statements as to what they intend to do are so indefinite, voters won't accept it. I believe the working man feels the Republicans, if elected, will reduce wages. And the labor unions feel the Republicans will cut them down and take away the gains they have made in the past 20 years.

"I also think the Republican convention was stupid not to include a Taftman on the ticket. I understand thousands of telegrams poured in protesting that fact. Dirksen or some other Taft supporter was not included. They just steam-rollered Taft out.

"My overall opinion of the Republican convention was, in the late Gov. Pinchot's words it was partly bought and partly stole." "Eisenhower," Edwards said, "doesn't have the political experience to cope with the political pressure that will be applied if he is elected. The net result of the choice of Eisenhower over Taft won't matter too much either. I've already learned that many Republicans who have backed their party for 20 years are disturbed because a new force has stepped in to take over."

Edwards was the Democratic delegate to the national convention in 1944 and in balloting for vice-president selected Harry S. Truman over Henry Wallace. Site of this convocation also was the Windy City.

The Stroudsburg attorney graduated from Goudsboro High School, Wayne County in 1907; Scranton Business College in 1911 and Bucknell University in 1915. He was a law student when he enlisted in the Army during World War One and served with the artillery in the famed Rainbow Division.

Edwards claims to be the first Monroe Countyman, excepting regular Army and Marine Corps personnel, to set foot on foreign soil during the war. He left for France only one day after enlisting.

In 1920 he began practice with the firm of Ellenberger and Huffman and now has offices in the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. building.

Edwards served as secretary of the Monroe County Democratic Committee for a number of years and was in charge of Sen. Harvey Huffman's campaign in Pike and Wayne Counties for four different terms.

He also served as solicitor for Pike County for 16 years under both Democratic and Republican rule and presently is solicitor for Paradise Township.

Dr. F. W. Shafer of Stroudsburg, elected alternate at the primary in April, also expects to attend the Chicago convention.
